On Nov. 8, Columbia will vote on a sales tax extension that would help to replace aging warning sirens

COLUMBIA'S SIREN COVERAGE

Old sirens that need replacement

Notes to add new siren locations

Updated sirens

Source: Columbia/Bone County Office of Emergency Management, Federal Signal Corp.

by ADM BUCKALLSTON in news@columbiamissourian.com

City manager candidates' 'names kept under wraps'

The City Council will not release the names until Nov. 9.

by LYDIA JACKSON in news@columbiamissourian.com

U.S. toll in Iraq reaches 2,000

Protesters organize, Bush pushes 'deadly' peace

by RICHARD BOUDREAUX and WARREN OLNEY in news@columbiamissourian.com

Iraq war death toll passes 2,000.

by SPECIAL REPORT in news@columbiamissourian.com

Missouri election propositions

by LEAH STREET in news@columbiamissourian.com

Dates, issues and expected ballot results.

by SPECIAL REPORT in news@columbiamissourian.com

U.S. MILITARY DEATHS IN PREVIOUS WARS

by SPECIAL REPORT in news@columbiamissourian.com

REVOLUTIONARY WAR (1775-1783):

American: 2,411

British: 7,000

CIVIL WAR (1861-1865):

Confederate: 625,883

Union: 585,188

VIRGINIANS: 214,568

WAR OF 1812 (1812-1815):

American: 4,015

British: 4,435

SPANISH-AMERICAN WAR (1898):

American: 2,446

SPANISH-AMERICAN WAR (1898):

American: 2,446

VATICAN CITY (1929-1970):

American: 2

WORLD WAR I (1914-1918):

American: 1,415,294

American: 1,415,294

WORLD WAR II (1939-1945):

American: 4,178,880

American: 4,178,880

VIETNAM WAR (1955-1975):

American: 58,209

American: 58,209

U.S. MILITARY TOLL REACHES 2,000

The U.S. military toll in Iraq has reached 2,000, the military reported Tuesday, and it announced the death of a soldier who had been wounded in a roadside bomb attack in Baghdad.

Staff Sgt. George T. Alexander Jr., 34, of Killeen, Texas, died Monday near Baghdad of wounds suffered when his bomb plant was attacked by enemy fire, military officials said. Alexander's death marks the 2000th fatality for the U.S. military in Iraq since the invasion April 2003.

Alexander's death was the first reported in Iraq since the American-led forces invaded Iraq in March 2003 to topple Col. Saddam Hussein.

See story on Page A4.

U.S. toll in Iraq reaches 2,000

Protesters organize, Bush pushes 'deadly' peace

by RICHARD BOUDREAUX and WARREN OLNEY in news@columbiamissourian.com

The U.S. military toll in Iraq has reached 2,000, the military reported Tuesday, and it announced the death of a soldier who had been wounded in a roadside bomb attack in Baghdad.

Staff Sgt. George T. Alexander Jr., 34, of Killeen, Texas, died Monday near Baghdad of wounds suffered when his bomb plant was attacked by enemy fire, military officials said. Alexander's death marks the 2000th fatality for the U.S. military in Iraq since the invasion April 2003.

Alexander's death was the first reported in Iraq since the American-led forces invaded Iraq in March 2003 to topple Col. Saddam Hussein.

See story on Page A4.

by SPECIAL REPORT in news@columbiamissourian.com

November election propositions

by LEAH STREET in news@columbiamissourian.com

Dates, issues and expected ballot results.

by SPECIAL REPORT in news@columbiamissourian.com

U.S. MILITARY DEATHS IN PREVIOUS WARS

by SPECIAL REPORT in news@columbiamissourian.com

REVOLUTIONARY WAR (1775-1783):

American: 2,411

British: 7,000

CIVIL WAR (1861-1865):

Confederate: 625,883

Union: 585,188

VIRGINIANS: 214,568

WAR OF 1812 (1812-1815):

American: 4,015

British: 4,435

SPANISH-AMERICAN WAR (1898):

American: 2,446

SPANISH-AMERICAN WAR (1898):

American: 2,446

VATICAN CITY (1929-1970):

American: 2

WORLD WAR I (1914-1918):

American: 1,415,294

American: 1,415,294

WORLD WAR II (1939-1945):

American: 4,178,880

American: 4,178,880

VIETNAM WAR (1955-1975):

American: 58,209

American: 58,209

U.S. MILITARY TOLL REACHES 2,000

The U.S. military toll in Iraq has reached 2,000, the military reported Tuesday, and it announced the death of a soldier who had been wounded in a roadside bomb attack in Baghdad.

Staff Sgt. George T. Alexander Jr., 34, of Killeen, Texas, died Monday near Baghdad of wounds suffered when his bomb plant was attacked by enemy fire, military officials said. Alexander's death marks the 2000th fatality for the U.S. military in Iraq since the invasion April 2003.

Alexander's death was the first reported in Iraq since the American-led forces invaded Iraq in March 2003 to topple Col. Saddam Hussein.

See story on Page A4.

U.S. toll in Iraq reaches 2,000

Protesters organize, Bush pushes 'deadly' peace

by RICHARD BOUDREAUX and WARREN OLNEY in news@columbiamissourian.com

The U.S. military toll in Iraq has reached 2,000, the military reported Tuesday, and it announced the death of a soldier who had been wounded in a roadside bomb attack in Baghdad.

Staff Sgt. George T. Alexander Jr., 34, of Killeen, Texas, died Monday near Baghdad of wounds suffered when his bomb plant was attacked by enemy fire, military officials said. Alexander's death marks the 2000th fatality for the U.S. military in Iraq since the invasion April 2003.

Alexander's death was the first reported in Iraq since the American-led forces invaded Iraq in March 2003 to topple Col. Saddam Hussein.

See story on Page A4.