

Faculty profile

Jeimmie Nevalga

Expertise areas

- Newscast producing
- TV newsroom management
- TV news reporting

Possible collaboration disciplines

- Communications
- Public Relations
- Multimedia journalism
- Digital journalism
- DEI

Professor Jeimmie Nevalga is the news director at KOMU 8 News. She is the first woman and person of color to lead this unique newsroom with the dual mission of informing mid-Missouri and teaching the next generation of TV journalists.

Nevalga joined the Missouri School of Journalism in 2011. She is actively involved in several TV industry groups the Missouri Broadcasters Association and the Mid-America Emmys.

She began her career as a producer in Milwaukee at WISN 12. She later became an executive producer for CLTV in her hometown of Chicago. In 2009, CLTV merged with its affiliate station WGN-TV, where she became a senior producer.

She earned her Bachelor of Journalism degree from the Missouri School of Journalism in 2000.

Outside of her career, Nevalga comes from a large, loving family. She shares her life with her fiancé, Patrick, and her dog, Jingle.

Learn more about Jeimmie on the J-School website

Missouri School of Journalism
University of Missouri

journalism.missouri.edu